

A Message From Our New CEO...

Hello to the Community of Saint Hilarion!

Dear supporters, volunteers, staff, members, committee members, board members and chair, our spiritual and pastoral care priests and sisters across this great society,

I would like to thank you for your confidence in me, the incoming chief executive officer for aged care.

I wish to thank my predecessor, Dr Carol Davy, for her contribution to The Society of Saint Hilarion Aged Care and am grateful to the team that she has assembled and that I now lead. They are a committed, professional, and above all else, caring group of people.

For those of you who do not know me, I am an organisational psychologist and have been working as a private consultant in organisation management including clinical healthcare for the past twenty years. I am of Italian descent and well versed in the customs, traditions, and spiritual needs of the communities we serve with roots all the way back to Caulonia, Calabria, where our patron saint is so revered.

I am respectful of all of our aged care community, staff, residents, and home care clients alike, and appreciate the wide range of cultural backgrounds and traditions they bring to our society.

The challenges ahead are many, but we are strong when we are united. We are strong when we share the vision. We are strong when we have faith. I am committed to ensuring that the vision of our founders remain with us as we move forward and serve our community within the Christian ethos our society was built upon.

I look forward to meeting you soon and wish you, your family, and the entire community of the Society of Saint Hilarion good health and happiness.

Viva Sant' Ilario!
